Hello,

thanks for the reply. I have received a similar one in another forum where I posted this question, so chances are that the incompatibility is really the problem. Unfortunately they are no newer versions of the library and I do not have the sources to recompile the files (even though the library is supposed to be "open source" the source files are not available on the website), but I have mailed the programmers and will see if I can get the sources from somewhere.

Thanks again.
