Judging by the number of these reports popping up, I'd say it's probably Mozilla Firefox causing it. Please do yourself a favor and confer with Firefox experts:

"Not responding" –
*****
Both not responding.

I am not technical.

I just purchased a new HP tx2510us tablet PC

CPU 2.1 Ghz
RAM 3Gig
Vista OS

Have comcast broadband internet
Max range Netgear wireless router

I was told this was fast enough to do basic work like surfing the net, emails etc. even if i had 10 browser pages open all at once.

However I seem to be getting a "not responding" message on my firefox / Mozilla page CONSTANTLY.
This is going on all the time.

The page keeps hanging for a long time.

Re: "Not responding" –

Has anyone faced a similar situation and solved the issue ?

Is it my laptop ? or Vista ? or IE / Mozalla / Firefox ?
I was told 3G of RAM was sufficient. Is it the RAM ?

Is it the internet that is causing this ?

Please help me.

Thanks
Rita
