

Go to control panel ?

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/VisualStudio/microsoft.public.vsnets.setup/2005-05/msg00041.html>

- From: "Jim McGivney" <mcgivney@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Thu, 12 May 2005 22:33:30 -0500
-

I am trying to install VSNet 2003 on a new computer with WindowsXP pro – SP2.

I have installed IIS and front page extensions and found that front page extensions have been configured.

I go to Visual Studio.net setup.

I click Step 1 "Visual Studio prerequisites"

I get the dialog box: "Please go to control panel to install and configure system components." the title of the box is Windows XP Setup

I do not know what to do.

Any help would be a appreciated.

Thanks,

Jim

• Follow-Ups:

◆ RE: Go to control panel ?

◇ From: Tim Macaulay[MSFT]

- Prev by Date: Which SQL Server version to install with VS2005 beta2
- Next by Date: RE: Go to control panel ?
- Previous by thread: Which SQL Server version to install with VS2005 beta2
- Next by thread: RE: Go to control panel ?
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread