Hello:

I am creating a new domain in Windows 2003. I need that the domain names is formed only by a word (DOMAIN) bur when I am going to do it I get a warning saying that the name should have 2 etiquettes separated by a dot (DOMAIN.COM). I am not going to connect the domain to Internet, I mean the DC only is going to "see" the computers in the domain and it is going to use only the DNS servers in the domain.

Could I name the domain only with a word? Is there any known problems doing this?

Thank you very much.
