JAR = Java ARchive

Sounds like you are visiting sites that want to run a Java applets. Java applets run locally; i.e., you'll see a message in the browser's status bar noting the applet download. They download to your host and execute from there. Of course, you didn't bother to mention these "certain public sites" so my supposition cannot be verified.

Note:

While assaulting recipients of your e-mails with your spam to promote your web hosting business, do NOT spam the newsgroups with your spammy signature. Configure OE to use different signatures for e-mail and newsgroups. Thank you. I almost decided not to answer. I normally don't assist spammers even regarding non-spam issues.
