I've some Windows 2000 Pro client SP3 in my domain that from about a week are showing this problem: when i attempt to view property page on every entry in Application, Security or System it's impossible to do this.

At the same time in system properties continuously is logged an error " DCOM 10006".

I've scanned the client machine with Symantec Antivirus Client (with last updated virus definitio at 09 May 2004) and no virus are found!

Furthermore I've installed all MS Security bulletin Updates (using Windows Update feature) included MS04-011 (aganist Sasser Worm).

In addition on one of this client machine is installed Outlook Express and in the last two days there is a problem to retrieve mails from pop3 server.

There is anyone that can help me?

Thanks you.
