Hi all...I'm having an issue that I cannot seem to figure out. We have 2 workstations that no matter what I try, I cannot access certain features remotely. Specifically, Event Viewer, opening HKLM in regedit remotely, or parts of the local security policy. One workstation is XP SP2, the other is 2K SP4. Both workstations were previously attached to a domain in a different location, then moved to where they are now. I've turned on auditing of all failures & successes in the local security policy, but nothing gets logged except a success when I try to access the Event Logs. Any ideas anyone?

Thanks,
