Hello all

I have an installation of Win2K Professional and I wish to use Terminal Services to access it. Well, actually I want to access it through XP Remote Desktop, but I gather this is much the same thing.

I assume I need to install Win2K Server, and wish to ask those in the know whether:

- a) I can install Win2K Server over the top of Win2K Pro
- b) all my installed apps / registry settings etc. will be maintained by doing so

Thanks for any help you can offer
