I am a 55 year old male that got my first computer 1 year ago windows 98! I was talked into upgrading everything! I am now very very sorry! I now have a big tower intel celeron etc. etc. With the biggest crock of bovine excrement, called "WINDOWS XP"! I now get everything I look at put onto the hard drive, I get an unwanted history of every web site i look at! I lost my MC Word that I used to make letters, resume's, etc. And when I try to get any help , online or otherwise they want my credit card # Shame, shame, on you Mr. Bill Gates, have you forgotten that you were wonce poor and worked out of your garage? And they used to say Henry Ford would roll over in his grave, when he found out that his product was no longer available to the average citizen! Sincerlty,
