

Re: Strange Message on Shutdown...!

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.basics/2005-07/msg01148.html>

- From: matt_fleming <matt_fleming.1s81pq@xxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Fri, 15 Jul 2005 13:01:54 +0000
-

Hi Eddy,

If you are nervous about someone watching you on a network, you might want to see if there are any open connections to your machine. Close all windows associated with network connectivity (AIM/Internet Explorer etc) and open up a command prompt and type netstat -b. This will show you all the connections to your machine, and the executables associated with it. If something is out of the ordinary I'd look into it a little more. If not, don't worry about it. There are other ways you can be watched though...

-Matt

Coastal_eddy Wrote:

- > Sometimes I get an strange message while trying to shut down or reboot.
- > The
- > message says that it is trying to shut down a program that does not
- > appear in
- > the task manager.
- >
- > The applications is XPCOM:Event Viewer or Reciever. I have fixed the
- > webpage with the image on it. I would like to know it XPCOM is a
- > Microsoft
- > app. You can view the message at:
- >
- > <http://artisgraphics.com/message>
- >
- > I want to know if anyone is watching me on a network or just what it
- > is. Any
- > info on this matter will be appreciated.
- >
- > Thanks,
- >
- > Coastal_eddy....

--

matt_fleming

.

• References:

- ◆ Strange Message on Shutdown...!

◇ From: Coastal_eddy

- Prev by Date: Re: win98 to winXP
- Next by Date: text insert jumping to last cursor position
- Previous by thread: Re: Strange Message on Shutdown...!
- Next by thread: New Motherboard
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread