

Re: Keyboard shortcut for screensaver

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.basics/2005-07/msg02028.html>

- From: "Susan S" <SusanS@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Mon, 25 Jul 2005 18:00:02 -0700
-

But how do I set a hotkey for the shortcut to the screensaver. I just want a shortcut to hide my screen if someone walks in that I don't want seeing what's on my screen. I can't find the program to even set a hotkey for.....

"David Candy" wrote:

> You can't. If you just want to look at the pretty pictures just create a shortcut to the screensaver and set a hotkey for the shortcut (see help on how to set hotkeys). But this is the screensaver acting as a normal program (that draws pretty things) not as a screensaver.

>

> Winkey + L is the security hotkey.

>

> --

>

> <http://webdiary.smh.com.au/archives/comment/001075.html>

> =====

> "Susan S" <SusanS@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message

news:F6EDF985-7701-465F-94CC-44DB0B6B1DA8@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

>> How do I create a keyboard shortcut to activate my screensaver?

>

.

• Follow-Ups:

- ◆ Re: Keyboard shortcut for screensaver
 ◇ From: Andrew Murray
- ◆ Re: Keyboard shortcut for screensaver
 ◇ From: Susan S

• References:

- ◆ Keyboard shortcut for screensaver
 ◇ From: Susan S

- Prev by Date: Re: Problems getting into safe mode
- Next by Date: Re: Keyboard shortcut for screensaver
- Previous by thread: Keyboard shortcut for screensaver

Re: Keyboard shortcut for screensaver

- Next by thread: Re: Keyboard shortcut for screensaver
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread