I fixed it by turning off everything that could possibly have one of those files open, in my case turning off Google Desktop fixed it. (right click on sys-tray icon, then click Exit in the context menu)

Other possible apps that could have it open:

- virus scanner (or basically any scanner)
- windows indexing service (which I turn completely off to increase system speed)
- explorer windows
- any app that you have with that file open, it could have locked the file

Hope that helps

cheers,
Chris

Hello.

I want to delete a file but i get always this error message:

Cannot delete File: There has been a sharing violation.
The source or destination file may be in use

I have the rights and i am the owner as Administrator.
the File is not used by another application

so dont know what i have to do now !?
