

Re: Followup on Notify.exe

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.customize/2004-04/0135.html>

From: Mark Dormer (markd_at_mvpsx.org)

Date: 04/01/04

Date: Thu, 1 Apr 2004 15:16:13 +1000

Apparently it is Verizon who distributes it, on a CD that comes with there phones.

http://www.spywareguide.com/product_show.php?id=655

Regards

Mark Dormer

"Gerald Ross" <gwader@netcommander.com> wrote in message news:%231Z$KB0FEHA.2560@TK2MSFTNGP12.phx.gbl...

> I recently wrote about a "Notify.exe" that was churning along using 94% > of resources and slowing down my computer. I found no such file and no > virus. On closer re-examination it was not notify.exe but NOPTIFY.exe. I > found that file in Documents & Settings\Myname\local settings\temp. I > believe it was left after I uninstalled Kazaa Lite, but not sure. After > deleting the line in the registry that called it, have had no more > problems. Elementary when you get the spelling right!
> --
>
> *Gerald Ross, Cochran, GA
> To reply add the numerals "13" before the "at"*
>
> Of all the people I've met you're > certainly one of them
>
>