I have been getting this error message for 2 days now when trying to build an image:

Target Designer was unable to clear the contents of the destination folder that you have specified. Please check the permissions on these files.

I have searched all over the internet and not been able to find any answers.

I have successfully built images in the past, but this just started happening yesterday. I have tried different folders, different partitions, and even a network share but the message is consistent. I have tried everything I can possibly think of, and Im going crazy.

Can anyone please HELP!!
