I recently upgraded to XPpro from 2000pro. I have set up 4 accounts.

2 administrator

1 guest

2 limited users

Now like I said I upgraded so all the software and files that were from my 2000pro install are all still there. I logged on as a limited user and tried to access Word 2000. It started an Install of word 2000. I had already installed word from the administrator account in 2000pro.

I noticed that most of my programs are doing this same thing.

How do I resolve this issue and allow all my limited user accounts to access the software that is already installed?

Thanks in advance.
