on the accounts on m computer that are limited accounts it will not let them open up internet explorer an error keeps popping up saying runtime error, it had requested that it end it in an unusual way and it never opens for them. under the accounts that are computere administrator the internet explorer opens fine and i checked them to see the disable scrt debuging was checked and the show all notifications was unchecked. the only accounts i have problems with are the limited accounts and i do not want to change them to administator accounts being the are only children. Please Help!!! thanks
