The strangely was in regards to free$$$$. You have put a lot of work into the site, and I have yet to encounter a request for 'contributions'. Also, my apologies for any posts I've made that don't reflect current issues. I've only recently returned from somewhere overseas with too much sand after being recalled. The admin work I did there was on proprietary software and antique systems. I'm trying to get caught up, but the world spins much faster than I.
