

Re: Control Panel

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2004-06/23808.html>

---

From: Jon (email_at_email.com)

Date: 06/23/04

Date: Wed, 23 Jun 2004 23:21:37 +0100

Do you mean the "Regional and language options" one?

Try typing start > run > control intl.cpl
or start > run > intl.cpl

Check this registry setting to make you sure you haven't got a "intl.cpl" =
"no" value key there – if so try (exporting it and / or) deleting it

HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Control Panel\don't load

Hope this helps

Jon

"Sashi" <Sashi@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message news:BF908398-A109-4345-8995-9511E50497DC@microsoft.com...

> Hi

>

> I had used TweakUI to play around with the various icons in the control panel. I removed the "International Settings" icon by mistake. Now, when I click on the check box in the TweakUI panel, the icon still does not appear. I ran the following command from the command line "control intl", but it doesn't work. I have also expanded the intl.cp_ file and overwritten the existing file. But the "International Settings" icon still doesn't appear in the Control Panel.

>

> Any suggestions as to how I can get the icon back??

>

> TIA

>

>