Thanks Ted, I prefer to think that some people are more to be pitied than blamed.

It's just my nature that if I ask someone something and I get an answer then I thank them, but let them decide what I am saying thanks for.

Firstly, this yeast infected çünt of whôre is not worth telling to füçk off, let alone even thank!

Ignore her mental masturbations she has with herself when she derides others for emulating her own faults!

Here is a picture of her, she is the ugly mongoloid in the teal sweater, and note, she can chew corn through fence with those teeth!
