If you have XP Pro, you have Offline Files – but my money is on www.centered.com (SecondCopy 2000) for file synchronization. I think it's a lot better – and is inexpensive. They have a free fully-functional 30-day eval. You'd only need one license if you plan to run this on your laptop & sync to your desktop....

I'd sync the whole shared data folder if it were me.
