

Re: Strange Right Click problem

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2004-10/14856.html>

From: Dr. Dos (NoSpam_at_no.spam.none)

Date: 10/13/04

Date: Wed, 13 Oct 2004 17:36:55 -0500

Greg R wrote:

> Snip

> I fixed my problem. The cord on the mouse was being pulled to tight.

> Causing a intermittent right click problem.

>

> Dr dos. Try making sure you mouse is plugged in and is not being > pulled to far.

>

> Greg R

>

>

>>Maybe I have a companion right-click problem. After >>installing SP2, right-click on any device in the Windows

>>Explorer left tree, or in My Computer cause the hour glass >>to appear and then nothing. Ctrl+Alt+Dlt says Explorer or My >>Computer not responding. I close that function down and >>things are normal.

>>As a result, I can't specify a drive to share, or a drive to >>name. I am the sole user of this machine. If there is an >>administrator, I R it.

>>Does this sound like the right click issue you responded to,

>>or is this something else?

>>

>>TrendMicro PCCillin spotted no virus.

>

>

Mouse is fine