

Start Menus

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2004-11/19611.html>

From: Lee (anon_at_anon.com)

Date: 11/29/04

Date: Mon, 29 Nov 2004 08:34:31 GMT

My machine has four profiles including me as administrator. Yet in Documents and Settings there are Start menus not only for the four profiles, but also or Administrator, Administrator.Home (The name of the machine), Default User, Default user.Windows, All Users, All users.Windows.

Documents and shortcuts to apps get placed in a variety of these menus and this sometimes makes finding things unnecessarily difficult as well as making housekeeping a pain. Do I need all these? Can I safely remove them?

TIA

L