I bought a Toshiba Satellite 2405 with Windows Xp. Along with this was Microsoft Front Page. Recently I did a restore and now all I have is an empty folder for Frontpage....it says it is version 3.0. I have tried at the vendor that I bought the computer and am not getting much help. How do I get Front Page back with out having to buy a new copy??? I am sure I registered my copy of XP on-line. Your help will be greatly appreciated as I now have a website up and running that I can no longer modify.
