

Help Me Please #2 "Display all images with full quality"

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2005-01/1024.html>

---

From: Paladin(PaladinDragon_at_discussions.microsoft.com)

Date: 01/01/05

Date: Sat, 1 Jan 2005 06:53:04 -0800

Hello all, I am stumped as to how to get my MSIE to load up website images with "full quality" from the start.

All my display settings are correct, but to get a clear image I need to right click my mouse and select "display all images with full quality" every time a web page loads, is there any way to get my MSIE and/or WIN XP to load website images with "full quality" upon webpage load? I don't think I should have to right click and select "display images with full quality" every time I view a web page.

Again, any help at all would be great.

Chris.