I use Pinnacle Movie editing products, and hadn't used it since June, (Sept 04 installed SP2) but when I attempted to edit a Christmas video the transfer was a disaster, and then I began to notice a coincidence with the playback mode on the players you mention. After visiting many discussions groups and being in touch with Microsoft the conclusion was as follows:

- 1) SP2 is the culprit, it changed the speed in the video card IEEE 1394
- 2) I wanted to experiment so I reformatted my machine and installed only SP1.

Result all playback and transfers are perfect again. According to my emails to Microsoft there is no real fix from them at the moment.

Hope this helps.
