

Re: Internet Explorer, Home Page

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2005-03/1698.html>

From: Rich Barry (rbarry_at_socal.rr.com)

Date: 03/01/05

Date: Tue, 01 Mar 2005 20:28:57 GMT

Your Browser has been hijacked by spyware. Go here and use these free utilities. Use them all.

<http://www.lavasoftusa.com/software/adaware/>

<http://www.safer-networking.org/en/index.html>

<http://www.softpile.com/authors/Kephyr.html>

<http://housecall.trendmicro.com/>

"Mr M." <Mr M.@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message news:A3C4260C-F347-4547-8B72-B4BBFA255269@microsoft.com...
>A web site out of my control has set a very inappropriate page as my home > page and I cannot change it!
>
> Even when I try to set a new one using the Internet options this page will > always reappear! I have also tried to delete its source code.
>
> How can I rid of this and for good?