I don't have a "Hosts" file where you say it should be! Any suggestions? Time has been at a premium lately, but I have downloaded the fix and will be running it shortly when I have read the instructions and understand what I have to do.

If you would like to e-mail me, I will be able to get your message at the Hotmail address (in the header) that I use for newsgroups; I think this thread is now of little interest to other readers...

It's called just plain "hosts" and you open it with notepad.
Did you run the Winsock fix?
