

Re: Out of Range?

---

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2005-12/msg03711.html>

---

- From: Malke <notreally@xxxxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Sun, 11 Dec 2005 08:20:52 -0800
-

colin0071 wrote:

> i have now set resolution to the lowest possible setting and the > probelm still exists as well as having an awful coloured screen!!!

Then you've got some hardware problems. Uninstall and swap out your video card for a known-working one. If the problems disappear, discard the original video card.

Malke

—

MS-MVP Windows User/Shell
Elephant Boy Computers
www.elephantboycomputers.com
"Don't Panic"

---

• References:

- ◆ **Re: Out of Range?**
    ◆ From: Richard Urban

- Prev by Date: **Re: Beeping noises**
- Next by Date: **Re: Legality of installing XP bundled with one computer on another computer**
- Previous by thread: **Re: Out of Range?**
- Next by thread: **Re: Out of Range?**
- Index(es):
  - ◆ **Date**
  - ◆ **Thread**