

Re: start menu problem

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2005-12/msg12728.html>

- From: "TaurArian [MS-MVP]" <taurarianREMOVECAPS@xxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Sun, 1 Jan 2006 08:12:49 +1100
-

Start Menu - 'All Programs' is empty or nothing happens when you click the menu:
<http://windowsxp.mvps.org/allprograms.htm>

- a.. When you click Programs menu in the Start Menu, it may show as (Empty)
- a.. Nothing happens when you click All Programs in Start Menu
- a.. Not all the shortcuts are displayed

--
=====
TaurArian [MS-MVP] 2005-2006
=====

"cycomiko" <kolovos@xxxxxxxx> wrote in message <news:1136059948.650940.141430@xx>

hello all and a happy new year!

can anyone please tell me what file is responsible for holding the information displayed on the start menu (specifically the part right above the "all programs"). for some odd reason that part has been corrupted and it is totally blank and the last six programs launched fail to display. i have tried all the settings but no change.

i have created a new account and for the new user everything is ok, so i think the problem is restricted to my user account. is there a file i can delete that would bring all personal user windows settings to default, including start menu?

thanks,
vasilis

Re: start menu problem