

Re: Remote tab missing from xp pro computer properties

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2006-01/msg04392.html>

- From: "Ramesh, MS-MVP" <ramesh@xxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Tue, 10 Jan 2006 10:22:41 +0530
-

>> Anyway to completely rebuild my registry or system files without >> reloading?

You may give SFC a try.

SFC /SCANNOW
Type in Start – Run

--

Regards,

Ramesh Srinivasan, Microsoft MVP [Windows XP Shell/User]
Windows@ XP Troubleshooting <http://www.winhelponline.com>

"denis" <denis@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:C0304C9E-D02F-4FBD-ABC4-6AE3EFD9E30B@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx Okay – I registered wbemcntl.dll and now I can successfully invoke the wmimgmt.msc console. – thanks.

Still – no remote tab.

I still do not have the executable recommended by S.Sengupta; winmgmt, so I cannot run the winmgmt /xxxxxx commands.

I put in my install CD again and selected "Install Optional Windows Components". From the selection options I checked off:
Accessories and Utilities
Internet Explorer (I don't have an IE desktop or start menu icon)
Internet Information Services (IIS)
Management and Monitoring Tools
Networking Services
Other Network File and Print Services
Update Root Certificates

It starts copying files from my CDROM to my HD and it stops with a "Files Needed" dialog looking for wmimgmt.msc. I direct it to the one I just expanded in system32 and it proceeds to a "Copy Error" saying it cannot copy

Re: Remote tab missing from xp pro computer properties

dsprov.dll.

I'm about ready to give up and try and reload my OS. Anyway to completely rebuild my registry or system files without reloading?

Thanks all for your help.

"Ramesh, MS-MVP" wrote:

> Type in Start, Run:

>

> regsvr32 wbemcntl.dll

>

> --

> Regards,

>

> Ramesh Srinivasan, Microsoft MVP [Windows XP Shell/User]

> Windows® XP Troubleshooting <http://www.winh>