

Re: HELP PLEASE

disabling the firewalls for now, set manual ips, and see if they can ping each other?

Tks for the advice..... how do I set manual IPs ?

With the router before it set me as 198.168.0.2 and the wife was .3

I have since done ipconfig on both computers and have the results..... rather than me broadcast it all what should I be looking for?

WIFE - connection specific dns suffix..... mshome.net

MINE - connection specific dns suffix..... BLANK ip address..... 192.168.0.1
default gateway..... BLANK

the other is ppp adapter bt yahoo..... dns..... BLANK gateway is the same as ip address.

Have pinged both pcs and get full replies back..... So should I just run the network setup wizard on BOTH MACHINES manually, have firewalls OFF and the internet not connected..... then re-start and see what comes up?

This must seem so basic to people in here, but am really confused ove ip addresses, gateways etc etc..... apologies to everyone!

Thank you

Steve
