Hi Grumpy,

This happens because the program writes the absolute path (to the icon file) in the Desktop.ini.

Example:

IconFile=G:\Documents and Settings\Ramesh\Desktop\Hotfix\Ikona1628047231.ico

This makes the folder icon to revert back, when renamed.

The following should be enough, as long as the .ico is within that folder

IconFile=Ikona1628047231.ico

You may write to the author of that particular program about this.

I use Rainbow Folders.exe to color folders on XP is there a better program, as folders lose color if renamed, and have to be recolored.
