These days it has seemed like my fan on my notebook, (Inspiron 6000) has been working way too hard. My roommate has the same computer pretty much and his is a lot more quiet. It seems like mine is always sounding like its trying to run or read a disk, or just processing too hard. I'm really not sure. It doesn't seem to help when I restart either.

Contact Dell.

You got Complete Care on it, right?
