

Re: What's the story on CD-RW

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2006-04/msg05044.html>

- From: "Doug Kanter" <ancientangler@xxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Fri, 14 Apr 2006 16:38:25 GMT
-

You don't need a blank to check again for the existence of the menu command.
If you need the file on the CD to remain intact, just don't USE the command.
:)

"Eric Kolotyluk" <EricKolotyluk@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
<news:841B08B8-C389-4948-9F9C-59AE1BC70574@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

Unfortunately I am out of blank CD-RW discs to see if they work.

--

Eric Kolotyluk
Software Developer

"Doug Kanter" wrote:

That's odd. When I insert an already-used disc, an Explorer window pops up, and the file menu offers "Erase this CD-RW". And, in My Computer, if I right-click that drive, I'm offered the same choice.