Boy that was big help there. I know that Java and Javascript are 2 different things and I have ran Firefox but no luck. I hav turned off the Anti-virus and have turned off the fire wall but no go.

Well you did not say so, did you? I don't have a crystal ball.

Why waste yours and my time on reply and not helping?? I see you are MS Brain Washed here.

Why waste my time not providing enough information? And the very funny thing is that if you were posting using a real newsreader you would see from my headers: User-Agent:KNode/0.9.0 which would tell you exactly how "MS Brain Washed (sic)" I am. Google "KNode" if you don't know what that means.

Thanks for nothing. I can see this place is the wrong place to get help

This is a great place to get help if you provide enough information for anyone to help you. It won't be me because I won't bother with rude people like you, but if you want to try with someone else read the information here first:
