Hello Brandon,
$LDR$ is setup loader rather than NTLDR,
During the initial portions of Setup $LDR$ is loaded. When setup completes, $LDR$ is supposed to be deleted as in \swin_nt$.~bt and \swin_nt$.~ls
So during setup the bootsector points to $ldr$ rather than NTLDR
The content of both files would be very similar other than the differences required for setup.
Thanks,
Darrell Gorter[MSFT]

<>How do you Google for something that starts or ends with $?"

<Exactly. That's why I had 250,000 hits on 'NLR', in most

<As I mentioned I believe it to be part of the preinstalled NTDLR.SYS (on

<Kerry Brown the content of $DLR$.file is far too similar to NTDLR.sys to
