Hi, I've just installed xp onto a new drive along with several programs including norton internet security and systemworks.

Everything seemed fine to begin with but now the logon takes about 2-3 minutes to load. The bootup is fast until i select a user then it slows down. Once I've logged in initially I can switch between users log on/off and it loads within seconds.

help would be greatly appreciated

The problem is probably caused by having both Norton Internet Security and Norton Systemworks installed. Both those programs are huge resource drains. Having both of them running will bring the fastest computer to its virtual knees.

I personally don't recommend Norton products, but if you want to use them then choose either NIS or Systemworks, not both.
