Type in 'explorer" nothing happen. Cannot understand why the cpu is running at 100% and it is the explorer.exe 'use' name that is taking up 99% When boots up in "safe mode", the total cpu % is about 2% Anthing I can try, thanks

Only have the wall paper on desktop and nothing else, not even the start button etc.(done on line scan, adware 1.06 and spybot 1.4 etc in safe mode and remove whatever found) I downloaded the tweak #195 and copy and paste on the said pc. Boot in Safe Mode and run the downloaded file. But this fails to resolve the issue. Any idea what else can I do to bring the pc back to life.

It sounds like your system is still not clean. Refer to these malware removal steps:

If you didn't do the preparatory work, virus scans, etc. then do them. If all else fails, run HijackThis and post your log in one of the specialty forums listed at the site above (not here, please).
