I have had it and I am going to do what people told me to do a long time ago.

I am going to reformat the drive and start over.

This is how I figure I am going to do this, please help me out if I leave out a step or mix something up.

- 1) Boot with XP sp1 diskettes (6 of them)
- 2) once the boot is done, format the drive using format c\:
- 3) Once this is formatted, boot again with the 6 diskettes. Find the install on the CD and run setup.
- 4) go from there.

My concern is being able to run SETUP from the disks. If it doesn't work, should I boot from the CD?

Thanks in advance
