

Re: Right-Click on Folder, Select Properties – No Response

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2006-09/msg06591.html>

- From: "Ramesh, MS-MVP" <ramesh@xxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Tue, 19 Sep 2006 11:27:57 +0530
-

Thanks for the info, Speedy. We know this is related to IIS W3C shell extension, but your added note would help too.

See also:

<http://groups.google.com/group/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/msg/b9824750a8a51f60>

Also, see "W3ext Module" paragraph in this page:

<http://windowsxp.mvps.org/slowrightclick.htm>

Re: Can't view WinExp folder prop dialog RESOLVED – Windows XP – CNET

Forums:

<http://reviews.cnet.com/5208-6142-0.html?forumID=5&threadID=44105&messageID=538357>

--

Regards,

Ramesh Srinivasan, Microsoft MVP [Windows XP Shell/User]
Windows@ XP Troubleshooting <http://www.winhelponline.com>

"Speedy" <Speedy@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:C42A6699-3172-4967-85D3-8F8D88755066@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Hi Folks:

I used the hints on this thread. And it resolved this same problem.
Please do read the whole thread as the info in it is most excellent.

I would however recommend trying the simplest and least dangerous solution 1st, which is to let your Firewall Program (Norton Internet Security in my case), to "Allow All" for inetinfo.exe and reboot.

An easy way to see if this is potentially your problem is to look for the Status of World Wide Web Publishing Services. If it says "Starting", then you have this problem. After allowing all for "C:\WINDOWS\system32\inetrv\inetinfo.exe" in my Firewall program settings, and rebooting, not only did my Properties Window show up again, but the system boots much more quickly.

Re: Right-Click on Folder, Select Properties – No Response

"Hendrik" wrote:

Hi,

Can anyone please help me, after I installed Service Pack 2 and enabled Internet Connection Sharing (ICS) on my PC, the folder properties are not working at all.

I've tried disabling ICS (no changes).
Tried disabling Context Menu items (also no changes)

I've also done all the latest Windows updates! :(

I know it will help if I reinstall WIN XP Pro and only SP1. :(

Thanks in advance!!!