Hello,

I cant seem to figure out why many of us do not protect our computers/networks using security products (anti-virus/anti-spyware) even though almost everyone has trouble with viruses/spyware.

To understand why, please answer a short survey. I will share the results of this survey to the group. Through this survey I would like to know the reasons for not securing the home-network or the computer.

I can answer it in one word: Ignorance.

Only newbies have the problem; it takes time to learn and to know what to learn and what's crap so don't learn it.
