I have a Dell Dimension whose warranty just expired. Now all of a sudden, I can't log off and log on anymore without restarting.

If I log off, the logon screen will freeze and won't let me type in my password (the password box is unresponsive), so the only way to get back in is to restart...

I don't see any unusual startup items in msconfig. Does anyone have any idea as to what's happening??

Thanks in advance for any suggestions.

Use SystemRestore to return your PC to a date just before this problem started occurring.
