

Re: Internet History

---

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2007-04/msg01551.html>

---

- From: "Ronaldo" <private\_email5@xxxxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Thu, 5 Apr 2007 12:23:59 -0700
-

You need to disable "autocomplete" Start\Control Panel\Internet Options\Content\Autocomplete.
Uncheck specific types of autocomplete history. And to delete saved URLs or passwords click on the appropriate bar.

CCleaner (Crap Cleaner) can do all the described chores for you, either in manual or automatic setting.
<http://www.ccleaner.com/>

-----
"cyabaker" <u33093@uwe> escribió en el mensaje news:7042fa8b3d96c@xxxxxx

Hi, I have went to Control Panel and cleaned out my cookies and deleted my files and cleared History. But when I log back on and go to my address bar and type in a "old" (I deleted everything) it still fills it in as if I had just went to that site. I was wondering if there is somewhere else I need to go to get in out of there. Plus when I go to the history folder and type that web site in it shows up also? Thank you