On one of our machines we use a software program that is written for a screen resolution 600x480. Now we replaced the monitor which has 800x600 resolution at a minimum. The software starts and utilises app. 75% of the screen. Question is:

Is there a way to maximise the program or scale it up to fill the complete screen? I tried some settings in compatibilitiesmode, but did not work.

Is there a way?

Dirk.
