Garry,

Since when have you had to purchase more expensive Acrobat Readers? Surely you mean Adobe Acrobat (writer)

Please confirm that you are referring to the freeware Adobe Acrobat Reader, which commonly offered for download on many web sites. There are more sophisticated versions you can purchase.

What do you use Adobe Reader for? Is it restricted to reading and printing off documents or do you also edit PDF documents?

Do you leave your computer on 24/7?

Try Ctrl+Alt+Delete to select Task Manager and click the Performance Tab. Under Commit Charge what is the Total, the Limit and the Peak?

How large is your hard disk and how much free space. Right click on your C drive in Windows and select Properties to get this information.

How much RAM memory?

What is your processor speed?

when I try to open something with adobe reader, it freezes and I can't open. This also happens at my work computer also. Why?
Thanks.
