Per Simon:

I kind of like the idea of running a batch update on Fridays so that the computers are 'cleaned' once a week and all I would have to worry about is the state of the servers.

Maybe I'm unduly paranoid..... maybe not.... but my thinking around periodic cleansing partially involved some kid leaving porn on a PC – tb discovered by somebody with a significant capacity for righteous indignation.... and maybe having the resulting little storm find it's way back to the system admin.

What did they say in the army? "CYA All The Way"?
