

Re: HELP!? IE7 in uncontrollable continuous loop

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.general/2008-10/msg00710.html>

- From: "Ronaldo" <private_email5@xxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Fri, 3 Oct 2008 14:54:43 -0700
-

Sounds like a case of browser hijacking... Use CCleaner to delete cookies and Temporary Internet Files, and run either A-Squared Free or Malwarebytes anti-Malware to delete the malware.

Crap Cleaner

<http://www.ccleaner.com/>

Download A-Squared Free

<http://www.emsisoft.com/en/software/free/>

Download Malwarebytes Anti-Malware

<http://www.malwarebytes.org/>

"LVLITIG8R" <LVLITIG8R@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> escribió en el mensaje
news:FF7AAD73-88E6-47F8-BAAC-7D7FC9C6319B@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

I have XP sp 3, IE 7, Norton AntiVirus 2006 v. 12.8.0.4 and use AOL 9.0 SE. When I am on AOL, IE7 will frequently open on its own and open new blank pages continuously, in rapid succession, display "ads.web.aol.com" and lock the keyboard. The only thing that works is: ctrl-alt-del, end the AOL and IE7 tasks, then reboot. However, it then routinely starts all over again. Any suggestions of what I can do to stop this ???