Hi

Try a System Restore back to a point before the problem started. If you want to backup the Registry try Erunt:

Please read the Detailed Information file for help on the program's options:

| Could someone tell me what is happening to my system.
| I followed some "suggestions" from Symantec to delete Norton and must have
| deleted something from my registry.
| Before I did it I copied the registry to the desktop, but now it says it
| cannot merge with the registry and I am missing CCREGMON.dll
| Things seem to be missing at times like drive letters, my cursor disappears.
| Word will not work either, it says it cannot find the Document Template
| C:\...\STARTUP\Word Code Cleaner.dot & the file Windows XP Professional
| Service Configurations.doc is not available.
| Found out I might have to do updates but unsure how, found out my
| motherboard is FLORIDA-TG 19990603 It is a Intel Celeron 533 MHz with 192
MB
| RAM. Had problems with USB ports also nor showing up properly.
