I recently changed my motherboard (Intel 915gav), processor(p4-530) and memory (ddr512mb). Also, I am now using the integrated graphics instead of an AGP card. The problem is I tried to just plug my hard drive with XP right into these new components and it says that windows apologizes but it has detected new hardware. From that point it says I can select from boot options, but it doesn't work, they just restart my system and bring me back to this same screen. Any help will be greatly appreciated.
