For all you hardcore AMD fans, you better start crying. Your AMD processors are eating Intel's dust.

The spring Intel going on now clearly demonstrates that Intel's new Conroe chip beats the pants off of AMD's FX dual core chip.

These are just preliminary benchmarks. Just wait till this chip release in Sept. AMD stands no chance.

According to many websites, the new yet to be release M2 series from AMD will not make a difference in benchmarks.

Intel is back on top.

What a ridiculous thread. It's a target that no one will ever hit. As each new CPU comes out it will be better than what came before. So what! How long have you been using computers?
